

Motivation for Matthew 25: 14-30

What do you do with what you have been given? Perhaps this has never before been so relevant. Everywhere we see and experience the message that we "can't." We can't leave our homes. We can't be with loved ones. We can't go to Mass. But the Lord does not wait, the Lord does not go on hold and He certainly doesn't get locked down. He is inviting you, me, to be His instruments in spreading His Word and proclaiming His kingdom. What are you going to do with the place and the people you are locked down with? What will you discover about the talents He has given you?

There is no time to waste. The Lord is speaking to you today and He has a piece of good news for you. What are you going to do with His love?
